“What can you do for your country and our future?”

With the loss of 5.5 million manufacturing jobs this decade, and the residual impact (for every one manufacturing job there are five others created - truck drivers, accountants, research & development, clerical, etc.), the US has seen a loss of over 30 million jobs. This has had a huge impact on not only our economy and national security but also on the survival of our middle class. Our economy cannot rely solely on service, health care and agriculture. Government has not provided a solution and so it is time for consumers to take action before it's too late.

We must act now or we will see the extinction of more US industries. Once these jobs are lost they will likely be lost forever, increasing our dependency on foreign made goods.”

Remember to look for the "Made in the USA Label"
